GENERAL NEWS.

The Fitz John Porter Case.

West Point, July 9—Hearing in Fitz John Porter's case was continued to day Gen who was colonel under Porter was chief witness His testimony opened with statement of distances surrounding the battle field and description of woods which lay between Porter's command and the rebels when Porter received the order to advance. Porter testified that no prudent man would attempt to march his force through them. Porter's position was a strong one for defence, woods on the right being too thick for the enemy to march through and a railroad only for communication The enemy built along the front and witness knew there was a battery there Witness next described scenes on the morning of the 30th could be heard reports that rebels acknowledged themselves very badly beaten and were falling back, etc. An attempt was made to show Porter's gallantry on that day but the judge advocate objected to hearing any testimony bearing on the thirtieth Counsel for Porter claimed they would show that his corps bore the brunt of the battle on that day the board decided to admit any evidence bearing upon Porter's animus

New York, July 9.—The Journal's Washington special says: Letters received here from members in New Orleans complain that the sub-committee is getting no assistance whatever from the Nicholls government in trying to unearth alleged election frauds in Louisiana. ### CANADA.

Ottawa, July 9.—The governor having received a requisition for troops to preserve peace in Montreal on the 12th inst, Major General Smythe has ordered 2 000 men to go into camp in Dominion square on the 11th The general leaves Wednesday to take command.

A Conflict of Authority.

Montreal, July 9—The mayor left for Ottawa this morning for the purpose it is said of preventing militia being called out on the 12th if they are called out to have them placed in his hands. The mayor has stated that if magistrates have direction of the troops he will retire from any active participation in preserving the peace Orangemen will be in full regalia

That Everlasting Nuisance.

Anticipated troubles on the 12th are having effect on the trade of the city It is said that the mayor failed in getting the government at Ottawa to make any change in the military arrangements Two leading Orangemen stated to-day that it is not their intention to have any procession in Montreal this year, being perfectly satisfied with the assertion of their rights to walk on this occasion. The mayor has received a number of threatening letters, several written in blood and all threatening his life Guards are stationed at all city armories

The mayor's course at the magistrates meeting was eulogized and thoroughly endorsed. The meeting pledged itself to support the mayor under all circumstances and the excitement, when speakers referred to the Orange proceedings, waxed into frenzy. Finally arrangements to await the Mayor's return from Ottawa to night and the report of his mission to the government will be made at another open air assembly to-morrow evening. ### Stoppage of Woolen Mills

Boston papers publish a list of all of seventy eastern woolen mills which have stopped either partly or entirely with a view of curtailing production or the working off of the large accumulation of goods on hand. These mills represent a total of 91 sets of cards, the stopping of which the Boston Journal of Commerce says means a curtailment of production to the extent of 68 330 yards per week, equal to 110 000 suits of clothing at the same time This is not enough. Other mills are running out and will soon appear in the lists yet the number of sets would reach to 2 000 so as to equal a curtailment of 500 000 suits of clothing per week. When this is done it will be time to talk of the market being relieved'

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Indian Troops Going to Cyprus—The Congress

London July 9—The Times states on official authority that Sir Garnet Wolseley will start for Cyprus in a few days and will take with him the Indian contingent

It settled the Servian boundary question allotting [illegible] to Servia and referred the details of the Roumanian boundary question to a commission to sit upon the spot

England and the Eastern Question

London July 9—Official correspondence in relation to the occupation of the island of Cyprus is made public Lord Salisbury writing to Minister Layard May 30th explains the necessity of arrangement to counteract the influence in direction of disintegration which mere possession by Russia of Batoum and fortresses north of the Araxes would exercise upon the population of Asiatic Turkey even if it should be certain that those places would not become the base from which emissaries of intrigue could issue to be followed in due course by invading armies The dispatch states that private negotiations have shown that Russia is not inclined to modify those portions of treaty of San Stefano which relate to Asia Lord Salisbury lays stress upon its being an indispensable part of any agreement that England shall receive the right to insist on satisfactory arrangements for good government of the people of Asiatic Turkey

Following are features of the convention between Great Britain and Turkey It is stipulated that if Batoum Kars and Ardahan are retained by Russia, and if an attempt is made at any future time to annex any portion of the sultan's territory in Asia not ceded by definitive treaty of peace Great Britain engages to join the sultan in defending her territory by force of arms The sultan in return promises to introduce necessary reforms to be agreed upon later In order to enable Great Britain to make necessary provisions for executing her engagements the sultan consents to assign the island of Cyprus to be occupied and administered by Great Britain who agrees to pay to the Porte the present excess of the island's revenue over its expenditure Finally Great Britain engages to evacuate the island and terminate the convention if Russia restores Batoum Kars and Ardahan to Turkey The convention is to be ratified within a month

POTTER SUB-COMMITTEE.

New Orleans July 9—Geo L Smith collector of customs in answer to a question by Stenger gave the date of his appointment and that of his predecessor He also submitted a list of regular employes, showing all persons employed or discharged since Judge King's appointment also a list showing laborers employed in warehouse and other departments at 30 cents per hour There are about 40 persons so employed Recess to 3 P M [Note—The object of the committee in calling for the list of customs employes probably is to get name of Simpson's friend who witnessed the bribery of a member of the returning board ]

D J Webber of East Feliciana testified that he was chairman of the Democratic parish campaign committee and detailed occurrences with Anderson's departure from the parish and efforts to secure his return to complete registration Under the law registration closes nine days before election Anderson did not return until three or four days before election There were over four hundred Democratic voters unregistered Knew Capt De Gray a prominent Republican who was consulted by negroes as to their course De Gray in conversation told witness before the election that it was the purpose of the Republicans to have no ticket in the field so that the parish could be thrown out De Gray refused to vote saying that it was of no use that it was all a farce Witness stated that Anderson after completing returns refused to sign them but promised he would sign them when he got to Baton Rouge on his way to the city if some of us would go with him I went with him in a carriage to Baton Rouge where he signed returns under oath before a justice of the peace It was not necessary to make any protest as the election was peaceful and quiet After signing the returns I paid Anderson between $700 and $800

John D Lee of East Feliciana testified In 1874 I voted the Democratic ticket In 1876 I voted a mixed vote prior to the election in 1876 De Gray spoke to me about acting as commissioner of election Before election I saw De Gray and Campbell They told me there would be no Republican ticket in the parish that this was the programme agreed on I was below meaning New Orleans Knew that De Gray was in the habit of consulting prominent Republicans in New Orleans He was really the head of the Republican party in the parish John S Lancer East Feliciana testified that he knew the leaders of the Republican party From conversations with them he inferred they would not put a ticket in the field Had conversation with Anderson who wanted his friend Nash put on the ticket for congress Anderson said if this was done the election would be all right otherwise it would not The warrant cashed for Anderson afterwards fell into my hands and was paid into the parish treasury at its face value for taxes My object was to get Anderson to complete his work He was hard to manage and for that reason I went to Baton Rouge with him He refused to sign returns in Clinton He refused to cash warrant for fear he would not complete his work without it I paid him out of campaign funds Did not consider that there was any thing wrong in such payment would not have paid Anderson for purpose of inducing him to do wrong Heard Anderson say that Pratt furnished him transportation from New Orleans to Bayou Sara

Bayard's Advice to Mississippi

A Mississippi paper prints a letter written by Senator Bayard of Delaware on the 10th of January last to Speaker Percy of the legislature of Mississippi advising against the instruction of its senators to vote for the silver remonetization bill Mr Bayard discusses the probable results to follow the passage of that bill and says The people of the south who have the prices of all their products fixed by the gold standard of the London markets are peculiarly interested in maintaining public confidence in the certainty of a return to specie payment The west I am sorry to say is determined, so bitterly those whose capital has been invested there in public and private improvements that no idea of further loans in that direction exists The south offers the best field for investment of capital and all that is needed to make it abundant and at low rates of interest is confidence Every public expression of sentiment favorable to good faith and confidence which emanates from the southern states is of the greatest value to them and to their people I am induced to write you this because of a report I saw in a newspaper that resolutions proposing to instruct your senators in congress to vote for Stanley Matthews resolution and Mr Bland's bill were to be introduced into your legislature The known good will I bear to your people will be my warrant in thus frankly expressing to you my earnest hopes that such instructions will not be given

Narrow Gauge Railroad Convention

A national narrow gauge railway convention has been called to meet in Cincinnati, O, in the city July 17th next The questions to be considered embrace every thing relative to the construction and operation of narrow gauge [illegible] with the standard gauge [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the attendance of all [illegible] of narrow gauge [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the subject may be secured

End of a Farce and Humbug

[From the New York Tribune]

That order has been interpreted again There was just a shred of it left and that rag Senator Dorsey has put in his pocket It is now announced that officials may attend conventions belong to committees and run things generally It is worth noticing that the enumerations are always of things which this remarkably affirmative order permits It is never announced—and it would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer now to tell—what is forbids

ASSETS OF THE CONFEDERACY AND STATE RIGHTS

The following article on a nice question of law is from the New York Herald of June

In April 1865 at the time of the collapse of the Southern Confederacy so called the state of Virginia had on deposit in the Exchange Bank of Richmond $21 000 in gold From this sum H W Thomas then lieutenant governor of the state and other state officers drew by formal and regular warrants through the auditor of state certain amounts due them as salary In March of last year the United States district attorney brought suit in the federal circuit court against Thomas to recover the money ($800) which he thus drew on the ground that the gold on deposit belonging to the state of Virginia, one of the confederate or rebel states, became the property of the United States by right of conquest and the court decided in favor of the United States Thereupon the case was brought before Secretary Sherman under a motion to instruct the district attorney to discontinue the suit and Mr Kenneth Raynor the solicitor of the treasury now delivers his opinion that the claim of the United States has no merit and that the suit ought to be discontinued He admits of course that the United States fell heir by conquest to all the property of the Confederate government but not to the property of the state governments whose people chose to take sides with the rebellious organization If he says Virginia had set up an independent national government of its own had established or tried to establish international relations and assumed to be a sovereign nation in that case when the United States conquered Virginia its property would have passed under international law into the possession of the conqueror But there was no pretense of this and after the extinction of the Confederacy the state of Virginia remained a state as before and the state could lose no right to its property nor the United States gain any

It is odd that this question has never come up before the supreme court of the United States for adjudication we suppose it probable that this court would hold with Mr Raynor He asserts however that as solicitor of the treasury he has the authority to cause this and like suits to be discontinued But as the principle involved is of some importance we should like to have seen the case brought up before the supreme court and thus finally settled

CONCERNING MRS JENKS

A correspondent of the New York World boils down the Jenks business in this way

1 She is on intimate terms with the Louisiana gang of carpet-bagging politicians

2 She believes—either upon principle or from habit or like other numskulls from greed—in the necessity of Republican success

3 She saw by a sort of second sight the danger impending to the Republican party from the defection of Weber and Anderson

4 She determined to outwit them and to save the party

5 She probably looks out for the horse marine whose name she bears and determines to take care of herself

6 She carries a letter from Weber and Anderson which is to clinch the promise verbally made by the visiting statesmen

7 She says she did not deliver this letter but opened it, and having bit it and sucked it dry kept it

Quere—Where is it

8 She says she dictated the reply to a clerk, and gave the reply so dictated to Weber who waited outside for the answer

9 First—She refuses to say who was the author

Second—Sherman doesn't deny that he was the author

Third—She says she dictated the copy to the clerk What does she mean by dictated?

All this may be solved by this hypothetical state of facts viz

1 Suppose John Sherman wrote the letter

2 Suppose she got it but it open and read it as she had read the letter to which it was an answer

3 Suppose she read Sherman's letter to the clerk who wrote the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

4 Suppose she keeps the original and thus has Sherman in her power and gives the dictated copy to Weber

This hypothetical story at least disposes of the argument that Sherman and Hayes would not treat Anderson so cavalierly if he had any such letter They probably knew Mrs Jenks had the letter and thought they were safe so long as she kept faith with them Observe that Sherman does not put himself further in her power by denying the letter which she could produce

A Canada cheese factory has turned out what is claimed to be the largest cheese ever produced It weighs 7 000 pounds is six feet ten inches in diameter and twenty one feet in circumference and required the milk of 7 000 cows weighing thirty five tons, to produce it

THE INDIAN WAR!

Various Movements and Reports

The following [illegible] was received from Pendleton July 8th 5 P M

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] General Howard left Pilot Rock at 4 A M going towards Willow springs The stage for Heppner left here at usual hour yesterday and was held at Pilot Rock until this morning Left this morning for Heppner under escort of Frank Maddox's volunteers but on reaching the head of Jack's Canyon they found plenty of Indians whereupon the stage returned to this place No stage goes to Heppner to day Scouts reported to Howard this morning that there were about 200 Indians at or near Willow Springs and Howard pushed forward to meet them and very likely ere this has engaged them The head of Jack's Canyon is about ten miles north of Willow Springs and on the direct route from Willow Springs down the Divide between Birch and Butter creeks to Umatilla river and the fact that Maddox saw them at Jack's Canyon is evident the main body are moving to the Columbia but have no direct dispatch from Howard to day as to their movements If we learn of their moving towards Umatilla we will do all in our power to relieve the people of Umatilla city People here have but little confidence in the Umatillas I think but few of them remain loyal with the hostiles John M Bain and one Umatilla's out goes to Howard and command to night Your dispatch goes forward to Howard at once by one of his scouts

Indians Cross the Railroad near Wallula, Moving South

Wallula July 9—Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock just after the passage of the train from Walla Walla a band of 00 Indians crossed the railroad about 6 miles from this place—all well armed and without squaws At a settler's house where they stopped, they professed great friendship for the whites and claimed to be Moses Indians and that he had sent them to aid Homily in fighting the Snakes But few people here believe their story and think they are some of Moses people going to join the hostiles Last night some five or six families arrived from lower Yakima having been notified by a friendly Indian living at the mouth of Snake river to leave the country as the hostiles were expected to cross the Columbia and raid the whole of that country This Indian killed his horse by the hard ride he had to warn the settlers An old Indian chief a naturalized citizen too named Thomas is in town to day with several of his warriors who profess to be very friendly and are doubtless so They seem to be ignorant of the state of affairs in Umatilla county and care nothing about the matter any more than they are anxious to make the whites understand that they are friendly The Indians who crossed the railroad said they were avoiding the settlements for fear of alarming the already excited whites

Another Urgent Call for Arms

Umatilla July 9 1 20 P M

To John R Foster—There are plenty of men here but not arms enough Gov Chadwick has resorted to every expedient to get guns His requisitions have not been filled for some time at Vancouver owing to scarcity of guns They are expected soon He thought last week he could get guns from Gov Ferry but his requisition he learns was cut down one-half owing to scarcity of arms Major Kress kindly urged something over to the governor [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for his gunboat while patrolling the river Major Kress has done all he can for Oregon in this matter and now turns over all the guns he has forty or more to Gov Chadwick The finance department has informed the governor he has overdrawn his allowance and the government is wrong his request for arms All he needs are arms and ammunition They are wanted for Union and Baker The people here realize that the governor is working night and day for their welfare with his utmost energy and if he is supported he will do all that can be expected of any man If your citizens will telegraph the war department to honor Gov Chadwick's requisitions you will confer a favor on Eastern Oregon Gov Chadwick is right at the front He is in communication with all points and his couriers and scouts are constantly at work We could do nothing without him here Give him guns Show this to the executive committee and publish and use your utmost endeavors to procure us arms as settlers here are leaving without arms who would fight

Union and Baker Counties Notified

Umatilla July 9

The news of Gen Howard's gallant fight was received here last night by Gov Chadwick's courier Early this morning the governor dispatched a company of Summerville scouts, (twelve in number) under Capt Norville—a magnificent body of young men—to La Grande and Union with an account of Gen Howard's fight and instructions to notify all settlers including Grand Ronde valley If however they should find that the Indians were not moving east to Wallowa to return and assist the armed forces in this direction Precaution was taken several days since by the governor to notify Baker and Union counties of the probability of the Indians going to Wallowa All points are notified The governor telegraphed to the county judge of Union this morning the condition of things as another precaution should Capt Norville be captured by the hostiles That the Indians are going through Wallowa is not so very probable unless pressed to do so The stock and plunder coming this way it is almost reasonable to suppose that the warriors will follow their booty and beauty especially as Gen Howard has captured their provisions A courier is looked for to night

The Indians Retreating—Bernard Pursues—Sanford at La Grande—Charles Jewell, of Pendleton, Rescued

Umatilla July 9

Gov Chadwick has just received the following—10 P M—That the Indians have retreated and will go by way of Wallowa and Salmon river Bernard's men are after them Sanford is to night at La Grande or near there with 125 cavalry Gen Howard has ordered Sanford to go to Pelican, 15 miles this side of La Grande and wait orders

Charles Jewell of Pendleton was found in the brush beyond Pilot Rock badly wounded where he had been lying since Saturday without food or drink When wounded he wrote on a [illegible] with a piece of charcoal [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] placed it in the road and then crawled into the brush [illegible] the board was picked up and Mr Jewell called for which he answered and was thereby rescued

The State's Quota Exhausted

The following was received yesterday from from the war department in reply to a call for arms

Washington July 9 1878

J J McArthur and Hess Secretary of war is absent Arms already issued to the number of 200 in excess of what is allowed by law Washington territory is entitled to 2 000 which can be drawn from Fort Vancouver as the scene of operations appears to be in Washington territory It is suggested that the arms be drawn by the territory

Attack Reported at Oak Grove, Wasco Co

On Saturday last Messrs George Parrott and J J Chamberlain of Yamhill county passed through Portland en route for eastern Oregon by the Barlow road At the summit of the Cascade mountains they met Mr Blackerby of Silverton and another man whose name they do not remember who had just come in the greatest haste from Oak Grove Wasco county They reported that on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock a party of hostile Indians came with a dash into Oak Grove Most of the people had previously left the place Some half breed families only remained Blackerby had just arrived and was unsaddling his horse when the whoop was raised by the hostile party He saddled up his saddle again and had barely time to ride away As he left he saw the half breeds running women and children running in different directions for their lives An old man named Paquet formerly of Oregon city who was keeping a store there was the only white man left The young man who escaped with Blackerby wanted to get into the store to get his saddle but Paquet went into the store where he had two guns and said he would fight them This is the last heard from the place It is supposed there were between 50 and 70 Indians A half breed known as Quinine had gone out to the Indians just before the attack Some Warm Spring Indians were with them but at the council they said they would have nothing to do with it But the other who were said to be Snakes said they intended to attack the place and Quinine had barely time to get back when they came as fast as their horses could carry them From the summit smoke was seen in the direction of the place which indicated that it was burned None of the families in Tygh valley had left there on Sunday morning and there is danger that they were also attacked It would be easy to cut them off from The Dalles which might account for no report of the affairs from that place Great anxiety will be felt to hear more from that locality

A Report from John Day Valley.

Silver City July 9—Dispatches to the Avalanche from John Day valley speaking of the recent depredations there by savages say the latter are monarchs of all they survey The area of territory now invested by them embraces one four thousand square miles combining all natural facilities for prolonged war There are hardly eight hundred people in Canyon City and less than one hundred of the male adult population are armed The main street of the town is within easy rifle range of surrounding eminences, which afford numerous points of vantage for an attacking party The whole village is completely at the mercy of an inconsiderable number of savages, were they disposed to sack it The terror stricken inhabitants have taken refuge for several days in a large tunnel built for mining purposes which affords the only safe retreat in the place John Day valley in the immediate vicinity is about 65 miles long and the greater portion of it has been completely devastated by savage hordes In all of the engagements that have occurred these savages outnumbered the volunteers four to one

General Howard's Report

San Francisco July 9—A dispatch received at the army headquarters here from General Howard dated Head of Birch creek, July 8th says he found the Indians in force on a height near the head of Butter creek He advanced in two columns one under Throckmorton consisting of two companies of artillery one of infantry and a few volunteers and the other under Bernard, consisting of seven companies of cavalry and 20 of Robbins scouts Howard accompanied the latter column Bernard's scouts notified him of the vicinity of the hostiles when the cavalry moved forward at a trot over three foothills each over a mile in ascent The Indians were strongly posted on a rocky crest One company was left with the pack train The others deployed and advanced handsomely under a heavy fire The ascent is described as steeper than that at Missionary Ridge but not a man broke ranks though several saddles were emptied and many horses killed The enemy was driven from his position to another height in the rear of a greater elevation and crowned with natural defences of lava rock In twenty minutes this position was also stormed from different sides at once and rapid pursuit commenced of flying Indians who abandoned horses ammunition and camp materials The hostiles made for thick timber crowning the blue ridge and made another stand but were again dislodged and pushed four or five miles further in the mountains The rough country and great exhaustion of men and horses caused cessation of pursuit for to day In this engagement five enlisted men were wounded and about twenty horses killed It is impossible to state the loss of the enemy Their women and children and best horses were moved before the fight began apparently in the direction of Grand Ronde and the hostiles fled in that direction Officers and men behaved in the best possible manner throughout the affair

A WORD FROM ASTORIA

Astoria July 8 1878

To the Editor of the Oregonian

Can Oregon dispense with the services of J H Mitchell? This is the conundrum put to his readers by the editor of the Astorian in his Sunday's issue From the twaddle that accompanies the riddle it might be supposed that the henchmen of the senator still have an idea that he can be re elected It is an acknowledged fact that the Republicans lost the legislature because Mr Mitchell was not wanted for senator and there was an effort to force him on the party for another term And now this obscure paper comes out after the defeat and endeavors by an alliance with the Democrats of Eastern Oregon to foist him back into the senate The proposition is an insult to both parties and as such it is especially felt by the Democrats of this section

The editor of the Astorian has been a devoted and pronounced supporter of the Mitchell programme all through Occasionally in his paper he would wear Democratic robes to deceive the voters of this section and pretend that he was neutral in the contest but he is false and deceitful as the editorial in to day's paper prove him to be

The Astorian proposes to unite Eastern and Southern Oregon and with the delegates from here to re-elect Mr Mitchell What folly It proposes thus to ignore the wishes of the Willamette valley and keep up the irritation against Portland The fact is that Ireland has but few followers in his small warfare on the importance of Portland as compared with that of Astoria The people of this section are not in sympathy with his ravings against Portland they in fact condemn his course as unreasonable and injurious to the best interests of the place Portland and Astoria are not in arms against each other but the Astorian blindly rushes out and says there must be a feud between the two places It is a misfortune that this selfish and stubborn conduct cannot be stopped at once Few people here pay attention to the views so pompously put forth by the Astorian on any subject. They tolerate the institution because they need some kind of a publication

Thurman's Versatility

[From the Cincinnati Gazette ]

Senator Thurman manages adroitly to splice his specie principles to greenback politics He is an adept in riding two horses at once, each going in the opposite direction He is for specie payment in the abstract but for perpetual greenbacks in the concrete The senator made a speech to the unwashed Monday night in which he boasted that this congress enacted the silver dollar and forbade the use of the army to keep the peace at elections There was a time when Thurman held that the constitution gave no power to use troops to put down the rebellion As to the silver dollar it will never circulate by the side of that perpetual issue of greenbacks which Thurman will subscribe to in his own state while he tries to present a hard money face to the east To show a specie face to the east and a greenback face to the west, is the course which Thurman has marked out as his road to the presidency

WANTED A LARGER ARMY

With the settlement of new portions of country, with each new addition to wealth and each advancement in complicated civilization, the maintenance of the principle of prevention as applied to dangerous outbreaks becomes more and more important We need a larger army than formerly because there are numerous localities in wide sections of country to be guarded where formerly the Indians had undisputed sway It has been but a few years since there were no whites in the great interior which comprises fully half the territory of the United States No troops were wanted in the valleys of Montana or Idaho The Indians were in sole possession of Arizona Nevada and Eastern Oregon Two or three posts west of the Missouri river were all the military stations the government had occasion to maintain Twenty years ago an army of fifteen thousand men was even larger, considering the relative extent of the service, than an army of twenty five thousand is now Lives and property are now to be protected in a vast country which twenty years ago was altogether without white inhabitants and was even quite unknown

For the protection the country requires the army is not large enough In this department there are too few troops to deal successfully with the Indians now in arms Gen Howard has only enough to make an attack and drive them away he has no troops which he can move from other directions to intercept them. In consequence the band which for a week past has been terrorizing Grant and Umatilla counties and is now dislodged from its position upon the flanks of the Blue mountains is likely to escape Had there been a few more companies at Howard s disposal he could have so placed the troops so as to cut the Indians off entirely Two or three hundred men ready to meet them in Grand Ronde valley, or elsewhere on the route by which they are attempting to retreat, would end the whole affair at once But parsimony and partisanship in congress diminish the efficiency of the army in the field and permit to none of the commanders in active service a force sufficient for the work they are called upon to do The country needs an army of forty or fifty thousand men

It is not reassuring that partisanship is actively at work at every session of congress to reduce the army below even its present meagre force and that the effort last session almost succeeded It will be renewed next winter by men who do not consider the exposed condition of the new states and territories, but think only of the effect of the measure they propose upon the fortunes of "the party" We shall see if Oregon's representation, which soon will be wholly Democratic is to be whipped by the party lash or drawn by the caucus noose into a scheme which the people of the state wholly condemn The country wants a military establishment adequate to the service required of it.

THE GOVERNOR S ACTION.

Two weeks ago there was a call on Gov Chadwick from the south for three companies of volunteers for service alleged to be necessary in that part of the state. A telegram drawn up for the purpose of alarming the country was sent, whereupon THE OREGONIAN gave its counsel against hasty action, declared a belief that there was no need of a call for volunteers in response to this appeal, and expressed a hope that the governor would not issue a call. It has turned out, as most people thought it would, that there was no need for volunteers in that quarter The Standard now refers to this counsel given by THE OREGONIAN on the occasion stated, and adds—"But there is no reason why other people have not a right to think the governor should have called out volunteers long ago, if he could have armed them" And, pray, what would he have done with them "long ago," had he called them out? Neither the governor nor anybody else could have foreseen this sudden raid through Umatilla A week ago the governor would not have known in what direction to send or where to place a company of troops, and it would have been extreme folly to send them to Lake county, where they were not needed, though that was the only part of the state from which an appeal had come Again, the Standard, with the incurable, though perhaps in this case really unintentional propensity of an "organ" to misrepresentation says. "THE OREGONIAN has come to the conclusion that it is best to send no militia to the front." No one else has drawn such conclusion from what has been said by THE OREGONIAN. On Monday it said—and the Standard was pretending to quote from that issue—"The governor decides not to take men from here, and this seems a wise course, because more men are offering their services right on the spot than he has means of arming' In this matter the governor has acted with good judgment throughout Had he called for volunteers "long ago" he could not have armed them, nor could he have known till Friday last where to send them

THE INDIANS ROUTED

It is rendered certain that General Howard has routed the Indians from the position near the head of Birch creek where they had been for several days, and that they have gone toward Grand Ronde valley This is what was anticipated some days ago. The effort to cross the Columbia failed and the natural route of retreat is that which they have taken But their delay on this side of the Blue mountains has given time to notify the people on the other, who should now have some preparation made to meet them There is some reason to hope that Major Sanford's force, though small, supported by the citizens of Union and Baker, will be able to cut off their retreat, or at least to inflict upon the Indians heavy loss It is not probable that any of the hostile band now remains to threaten Umatilla county Howard has pushed his command to the extreme of endurance. Coming up with the Indians he struck without delay jaded and worn as men and horses were by the march and now without taking rest he continues the pursuit This long, difficult and circuitous march has been accomplished in a very brief time, when all the circumstances are considered We fear the hostile band will commit depredations of serious nature in passing through Union county, though the people have warning and will not be taken unawares It seems not beyond possibility that a large part of these murderous raiders may yet be captured or destroyed Such result would be certain were the military force on the other side of the mountains as large as it ought to be

The official count in California shows that the non-partisans elected all the delegates at large to the constitutional convention by majorities ranging from 2,000 to 5 000 over the Kearney candidates

THE CRY FOR ARMS

The reason why requisitions for arms are not filled is stated by a telegram from the war department Oregon s quota has already been overdrawn But it is stated that there are two thousand yet remaining to the credit of Washington territory and it is suggested by the department that it could easily be arranged through the governor of that territory to get arms for Oregon to fill the present want

Prompt action on this suggestion ought to be taken Community of interest between Oregon and Washington on this occasion should lead the authorities of each to lend the other assistance in all possible ways The arms can be returned to Washington territory when the present exigency ceases The call for arms grows louder and louder Surely an arrangement can be effected between Govs Chadwick and Ferry whereby the arms can be obtained

Among other reports in regard to Indian hostilities is the singular statement concerning a descent of a hostile party upon Oak Grove in Wasco county We call it singular because Oak Grove is distant from any track known to have been taken by any party of Indians and also because no mention is made of the matter by any report from the Dalles Yet the men who bring the report to this city unquestionably saw two persons who said they had just left Oak Grove under the circumstances described We print the statement, but are unable to verify it further

The Cincinnati Commercial says it is tramps not workingmen who are burning reaping machines in Ohio on the pretense that labor saving machinery is against the interests of labor It is not possible that the incendiaries would condescend to the toil of a harvest field Their destructiveness is therefore entirely on principle There will be a war between the farmers and the tramps presently and then there will be a scarcity of tramps

Mr T B Merry has christened the paper he has just started at the Dalles the Inland Empire The first number, now before us, shows many of Mr Merry's characteristic traits as a journalist He will make a paper that will be much sought after He always does The Dalles is a good point for a weekly newspaper, and it is a safe prediction that the Inland Empire will become in a short time the most notable paper east of the range

Competitive examinations for the civil service it would seem do not embrace easy lessons in geography Hence the chief clerk of a department at Washington is under the impression that the scene of active operations against the Indians is in Washington territory When the secretary finds it necessary to be absent after this he should leave the department in the hands of some smart school boy

Chicago papers intimate that it was supposed in that city that under the provision of the law allowing the secretary of war some discretion in the matter Sheridan s headquarters would remain in Chicago, but a telegram intimates that the secretary will not interfere to prevent the literal execution of the law, and that Gen Sheridan will have to remove further west.

It is regarded by observant politicians that the contest for the Democratic nomination for the presidency two years hence will be between Thurman and Hendricks The recent Democratic convention in Ohio was managed with a view of helping Thurman s claims

The national narrow gauge railroad convention to be held at Cincinnati next week, as announced in another column, will discuss questions of large and growing importance to the country Oregon s interest in the subject will in time be a large one

The Cincinnati Enquirer (Democratic) emphatically exclaims "Can't the cheering for Gen Grant be stopped?" This conundrum is respectfully submitted to Republicans of numerous states who are shouting in their conventions for Grant

It is stated that the Utah and Northern railroad will be completed to Snake river within thirty days

CITY.

THE McGIBBENY FAMILY —From the St Paul Pioneer Press of June 24th the following paragraph is clipped "This talented family afforded the great audience that assembled at the Baptist church on last Friday evening an amount of pleasure that is seldom found in a concert room The family besides the father and mother, both of whom are fine musicians comprises little Allie or "Little Mischief" as she should be called aged five years Fred, seven years Victor nine years, Hugh eleven years Miss Viola thirteen years and Frank fifteen years of age. These little ones form the concert company, but the professor has a reserve of three others, too young to take part Their talent is versatile, and is displayed not only in their vocal efforts, but in their performance on both brass and stringed instruments Encores were the order of the evening on Friday and the long programme was almost doubled Miss Viola certainly possesses remarkable genius, as was evinced by her performance of a difficult violin solo The orchestral music was good, and the character songs were beautifully done One of the prettiest pieces of the evening was the cunning Peek a boo duet between little Allie and her mother It brought the house down"

A GORGEOUS SPECTACLE.—Last evening a magnificent stalk of golden banded Japan lily was brought into this office It is the most beautiful specimen of the kind we have ever had the pleasure of seeing The flower came from the farm of Mr John C Buchanan of Butteville, Marion county The following note accompanied the floral gift "I send you a golden banded Japan lily, grown in my garden with ordinary cultivation I have got one with about 100 flowers, but on account of two stalks growing from the same root the flowers are much crowded and not so handsome."

MAN CRUSHED.—Last Saturday a man, whose name we have not been able to learn met with a very severe accident near Mount [illegible] school house. The man was engaged in raising a small house and was working under the building when the accident occurred Some of the underpinning gave way and the house came down Fortunately the man was not caught so as to receive the full weight of the building, or he would inevitably have been crushed to death However, as it was, the man was badly injured His injuries are not regarded as necessarily fatal.

HANDSOME BOQUET —A large, well arranged and very fragrant boquet was laid on our table yesterday morning, to which was attached a card bearing the following "With the compliments of Miss Florence Garrison of Piety Hill, Salem" Miss Garrison will please accept editorial thanks, and the young lady may be assured that the delicate courtesy extended will be held in pleasant remembrance long after the floral tribute is faded and scentless.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Says the Telegram Last Tuesday the little son of Mr Oscar Hunter, who resides near Deer island on the Columbia, had a narrow escape from drowning He was playing about a well, which was 16 feet deep and contained eight feet of water, when he slipped and fell in. Mrs. Hunter heard the splash and in a few seconds was on the spot, and lowering a ladder into the well rescued the child from a watery grave

PORTLAND July [illegible] 1878

To the Hon the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland GENTLEMEN For the reasons hereinafter mentioned I respectfully ask that my notice of contest and petition for the position of Councilman from the third ward be withdrawn from the judiciary and referred to the committee on elections I submitted my claim to you in the [illegible] hoping to have an investigation at once speedy and impartial but what I [illegible] has since been defeated by the appointment of Mr Weber on the Judiciary committee To this I cannot submit as no party [illegible] has any right to decide upon the validity or legality of his opponents claim [illegible] compelled to submit this matter [illegible] giving him the right to finally determine his claim as well as mine While it is true that I cannot yet unless you refer this matter to another committee I shall either have to act subject to his will or abandon my rightful claim In conclusion I simply desire a hearing before an unbiased committee and unless you can consistently grant my request you may consider the prosecution of my claim at an end Yours respectfully

R MENDENHALL

A remonstrance from Mr Henry Failing and others against the proposed improvement of Salmon street between Third and Eleventh was read and referred to the committee on streets and public property

REPORTS

From the committee on health and police to whom was referred the report of the auditor The committee reported favorably and recommended that warrants be drawn in favor of a number of witnesses whose names were mentioned in the report report of the committee accepted

The judiciary committee submitted the following report, which was read and adopted

To the Hon the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland Your committee on Judiciary to whom was referred the petition of R Mendenhall Esq claiming to be entitled to a seat in the council and the notice of said Mendenhall that he intends to contest the seat of Henry Weber Esq as a member of the council from the Third ward respectfully beg leave to report that they have notified said R Mendenhall that your committee was ready and willing to investigate said matter, and hear and determine such contest that said Mendenhall refuses to appear before your committee and declines to furnish your committee any testimony to sustain the allegations of his petition

The committee therefore would recommend that the further consideration of said contest be indefinitely postponed and the adoption of the following resolutions to-wit

Resolved, That R Mendenhall is not entitled to a seat in this council

Resolved That Henry Weber is entitled to a seat in this council having been elected a member thereof on the 17th day of June 1878 for the term of three years

FROM THE CITY ATTORNEY

The following report from the city attorney was read and referred to the judiciary committee

OFFICE CITY ATTORNEY
Portland June 8 1878

To the Mayor and Common Council On the 20th of June last a judgment was rendered in favor of A B Hallock against the city of Portland in Justice court for North Portland precinct for the sum of $85 50 and costs

The facts of the case are about these In 1871 a judgment was rendered in favor of the city against Mr Hallock upon an appeal bond for the amount of $85 50 In 1877 a foreclosure suit was commenced against Mr Hallock by Mr Ladd, in which the city joined as a lien creditor The city appeared and filed answer setting up its judgment. The decree rendered in July 1877 ordered the premises sold and the proceeds applied First—To the payment of the costs of suit Second—Mr Ladd's claim Third—The payment of the city's judgment The property was sold—bid in by Ladd & Tilton and the execution returned satisfied Messrs Ladd & Tilton paid over only the costs, and receipted for the balance No money was paid over to any one for the city—Messrs Ladd & Tilton claiming that they did not get the amount due on Mr Ladd's claim through some mistake in figuring

Mr Hallock then sold the property to Mr Cohn who desired the city's judgment to be paid and cancelled before he closed the transaction or redeemed the property from Ladd & Tilton Thereupon Mr Hallock, by Mr Killinger attorney for Mr Cohn paid into the clerk's hands $85 50 when the clerk cancelled the judgment Afterward the clerk paid to me $85 50 which I paid over to the city treasury

The charge that Mr Hallock makes is that the money was paid under a mistake that he was owing the city on the judgment, when the return to said execution showed that the judgment had been satisfied

The money was paid without any solicitation on the part of any one connected with the city with the full means of knowledge of all the facts on the part of Mr Hallock and I cannot see that the city is in any manner liable

I therefore submit to your honorable body whether the case shall be appealed to the Circuit Court Respectfully submitted,

J C MORELAND,
City Attorney

AN APPEAL FOR HUMANITY

SALMON FISHERIES AND SABBATH DESECRATION

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

During my recent trip to Astoria my heart was made sorrowful by the general demoralization prevailing in consequence of Sabbath desecration, resulting largely from the practice of fishing for salmon on the Sabbath

The morals and spiritual health of the canneries, hamlets and towns on the Columbia and its salmon yielding tributaries will be ruined entirely by the twin evils of drunkenness and Sabbath breaking unless the better classes of sober and Sabbath revering people project a reform

I confess that I have been at a loss to know exactly what to propose that would meet the approval of capitalists and laborers of church members and people not connected with church or [illegible]

But a solution seems to be suggested by our neighbors of British Columbia who have just established the following regulations for canneries and other fishing establishments on the Fraser river (vide OREGONIAN Pacific Coast News Tuesday July 2 1878) Fishing for salmon is prohibited from 12 noon on Saturdays till 6 P M on Sundays

This simple prohibition, dictated alike by scripture physiology and true economy is within the reach of all the canneries and fishing establishments that border on American as well as on British waters and, although the genius of our government is not so extensively paternal and mandatory as that of our British neighbors it may by the joint counsel of the moral and Christian proprietors and joint stockholders become the general usage and finally the law of the fisheries

Probably this change could not be perfectly introduced this season but the numerous friends of such a reform who are connected with this important industry might show their practical desire for its introduction by proposing a meeting to deliberate upon and mature plans Friends of morality, and friends of Jesus please to move in this greatly needed reform and I am sure the smiles of heaven and the thanks of the overworked fishermen and laborers at the canneries will be showered upon you

Many other considerations clamor for presentation, but they will readily occur to the friends of law and order I will not therefore trespass on the limits of a newspaper article by writing more but close by two quotations from the book of books "I am the Lord your God walk in my statutes and keep my judgments and do them and hallow my Sabbaths and they shall be a sign between Me and you that ye may know that I am the Lord your God —Eze 20 20 "The Sabbath was made for (laboring) man —Mark 2 27 CHAPLAIN R S STUBBS

MONUMENTAL MINE

A report has been circulated that the Monumental mine had been attacked by the Indians and that the miners had been driven off Upon inquiry at the office we learn that there is no truth in the report, on the contrary, the work on the mine is being prosecuted night and day by a large force of men, who feel perfectly secure from any Indian attack

The foreman of the mine writing to the office from the mine, under date of July 1 states as follows as to the progress of the work

Tunnel now in 719 feet upraise now up 70½ feet, north drift on ledge No 13 in 61 feet On Friday took out five or six tons of very fine ore, and to-day took out quantities of the nicest ore that ever came out of the mine. Face of tunnel looks favorable for another ledge soon

The prospects of the mine are certainly very flattering, and the indications are that the sound of stamps crushing Monumental ore will soon be heard where false reports now locate the sound of war whoops

ASIDE from its chief and thoroughly edited departments of fashion, literature art and society the housekeeper's column of "Andrews Bazar" is worth many times the subscription price. W R Andrews publisher, Cincinnati

THE GAMBLER'S END

[From Rev Mr Murray's Story in the Golden Rule

Beyond the balsam thicket the gambler made his stand Carson the detective was in full pursuit and as he burst through the balsam he found himself within twenty feet of his antagonist Both men stood for an instant each with a pistol in his hand each looking full at the other Both were experts Each knew the other

[illegible]

One pistol alone sounded The gambler had failed to explode

You've won, you bee [illegible] said the gambler And then he [illegible] the red stain on his white shirt [illegible] where he was hit

There's some lint and bandage said the detective and he flung a small package to the gambler's lap I hope you won't die Dick Raymond

Oh it was all fair Carson said the [illegible] carelessly I've held a poor hand from the start—

He paused for the detective had rushed on and he was alone

Twenty rods further on the detective caught up with the trapper, who was calmly recharging his piece On the edge of the ledge above the halfbreed lay dead the lips drawn back from his teeth and his ugly countenance distorted with hate and rage A rifle whose muzzle smoked, lay at his side and the edge of the trapper's left ear was bleeding

I've shot Dick Raymond by the balsam thicket said the detective I'm afraid he's hard hit

I'll go and see the boy answered the trapper You'll find Henry further up There's only two runnin' You and he can bring 'em in

The old trapper saw, as he descended the hill the body reclining on the mosses at the edge of the balsam thicket The earth gave back no sound as he advanced and he reached the gambler and was standing almost at his very feet ere the young man was aware of his presence, but as the trapper passed between him and the shining water he turned his gaze up to the trapper's face and after studying the grave lines for a moment, said

You've won the game, old man

The trapper for a moment made no reply He looked steadfastly into the young man's countenance, fixed his eyes on the red stain on the left breast and then said

'Shall I look at the hole, boy?'

The gambler smiled pleasantly and nodded his head, saying 'It's the natural thing to do in these cases, I believe Lifting the hands he unbuttoned the collar and unscrewed the solitaire stud from the white bosom The trapper knelt by the young man's side, and laying back the linen from the chest, wiped the blood stain with a piece of lint from the white skin and carefully studied the edges of the wound seeking to ascertain the direction which the bullet had taken as it penetrated the flesh At last he drew his face back and lifted himself to his feet not a shade in the expression of his face revealing his thought

"Is it my last deal old man?" asked the gambler carelessly

I have seen a good many wounds answered the trapper and I've noted the direction of a good many bullets, and I never knowed a man live who was hit where ye be hit ef the lead had the slant inward as the piece has that has gone into ye

For a minute the young man made no reply No change came to his countenance He turned his eyes from the trapper's face and looked pleasantly off toward the water He even whistled a line or two of an old love ballad, when he paused, and, drawn perhaps by the magnetism of the steady gaze which the eyes of the trapper fixed upon him he looked again into the old man's face and said

'What is it, John Norton?'

"I be sorry for ye, boy,' answered the old man I be sorry for ye, for life be sweet to the young and I wish that yer years might be many on the 'arth"

'I fancy there's a good many who will be glad to hear I'm out of it," was the careless response

"I don't doubt ye have yer faults, boy, answered the trapper, "and I dare say ye have lived loosely, and did many deeds that was better undid, but the best use of life be to learn how to live, and I feel sartin ye'd have got better as ye got older and made the last half of yer life wipe out the fust, so that the figures for and agin ye would have balanced in the jedgment

'You aren't fool enough to believe what the hypocritical church members talk are you John Norton? You don't believe that there's any judgment day do you?'

'I don't know much about church members," answered the trapper for I've never been in the settlements leastwise I've never studied the habits of the creturs, and I dare say they differ bein' good and bad, and I've seed some that was sartinly vagabonds No I don't know much about church members but I sartinly believe, yis I know there be a day when the Lord shall jedge the livin and the dead, and the honest trapper shall stand on one side, and the vagabond that pilfers his skins and steals his traps shall stand on the other This is what the book says, and it sartinly seems reasonable, for the deeds that he did on the earth be of two sorts, and the folks that do 'em be of two kind, and atween the two, the Lord, ef he notes anything, must make a dividin line'

"And when do you think this judgment is John Norton?" asked the gambler as if he was actually enjoying the crude but honest ideas of his companion The trapper hesitated a moment before he spoke, then he said

"I conceit that the jedgment be always goin' on It's a court that never adjourns and the deserters and the knaves and the disobedient in the regiment be always on trial But I conceit that there comes a day to every man, good and bad, when the record of his deeds be looked over from the start and the good and the bad counted up and in that day he gits the final jedgment whether it be for or agin him And now boy,' continued the old man solemnly with a touch of his infinite tenderness in the vibrations of his voice "ye be nigh the jedgment day yerself and the deeds ye have did both the good and the bad, will be passed in review

"I reckon there isn't much chance for me if your view is sound, John Norton And for the first time his tone lost its cheerful recklessness

'The court be a court of marcy and the jedge looks upon 'em that comes up for trial as ef he was their father'

"That ends it, old man, answered the gambler "My father never showed me any mercy when I was a boy If he had, I shouldn't have been here now If I did a wrong deed I got it to the last inch of the lash" and the words were more intensely bitter because spoken so quietly

"The fathers of the 'arth, boy, be not like the Father of Heaven, for I have seed 'em correct their children beyond reason and without marcy They whipped in their rage, and not in their wisdom, they whipped because they were strong, and not because of their love they whipped when they should have forgiven, and got what they arnt—the hatred of their children But the Father of Heaven be different boy He knows that men be weak, as well as wicked He knows that half of 'em haven't had a fair chance and so he overlooks much, and when he can't overlook it, I conceit he sorter forgives in a lump Yis he subtracts all he can from the evil we have did, boy and ef that isn't enough to satisfy his feelin's toward a man that might have been different ef he'd had a fair start he just wipes the whole row of figures clean out a the askin' '

'At the asking?' said the gambler "that's a mighty quick game Did you ever pray John Norton?'

Sartin sartin I be a prayin' man said the trapper sturdily

"At the asking murmured the gambler softly

"Sartin boy answered the trapper that's the line the trail takes ye can depend on it and it will bring ye to the end of the great clearin in peace

It's a quick deal said the gambler speaking to himself utterly unconscious of the incongruity of his speech to his thought ' It's a quick deal, but I can see that it might end as he says if the feeling was right

For a moment nothing was said The trapper stood looking steadfastly at the young man on the moss as he lay with his quiet face turned up to the sky to whose color had already come the first shade of the awful whiteness

Up the mountain a rifle cracked Neither stirred. A red squirrel ran out upon the [illegible] and shook the silence into fragments with his chattering then sat gazing with startled eyes at the two men underneath

Can you pray old man asked the gambler quietly

Sartinly answered the trapper

Can you pray in words? asked the gambler again

For a moment the trapper hesitated Then he said I can't say that I can [illegible] thinkin' of gittin' along [illegible] would it be in a way to help a man

Is there any way old man [illegible] professin' still [illegible] counseling

I was thinkin' of this [illegible] trapper [illegible] I was thinkin' [illegible] myself and [illegible] barrel

'And [illegible] said the trapper with a sweetly [illegible] which lighted [illegible] fairly [illegible] than upon [illegible] the pines overhead and [illegible] as well [illegible] his heavy and death be nigh, His ear and His heart be both open

The trapper knelt on the moss at the gambler's feet He clasped the fingers of his great hands until they interlaced and lifted his [illegible] without a word but the strongly [illegible] with age moved and twitched now and then and as the silent prayer went on two great tears left the protection of the closed lids and rolled down the rugged cheek The gambler also closed his eyes then his hands quietly stole one into the other and avoiding the bloody stain rested on his breast and thus the old man who had lived beyond the limit of man's day and the young one cut down at the threshold of mature life—the one kneeling on the mosses with his face lifted to heaven the other lying on the mosses with his face turned toward the same sky without word or uttered speech prayed to the divine mercy which beyond the heaven and the sky saw the two men underneath the pines and met we may not doubt with needed answer the silent upgoing prayer

The two opened their eyes nearly at the same instant They looked for a moment at each other and then the gambler feebly lifted his hand and put it into the broad palm of the trapper Not a word was said No word was needed Sometimes men understand each other better than by talking Then the gambler picked the diamond stud from the spot where it rested slipped the solitaire from his finger and said as he handed them to the trapper

There's a girl in Montreal that will like these You will find her picture inside my vest when you bury me Her address is inside the picture case You will take them to her John Norton?

She shall have them from my own hand answered the trapper gravely

You needn't disturb the picture John Norton said the gambler it's just as well perhaps to let it lie where it is [illegible] eight years You understand what I mean old man?'

I understand answered the trapper solemnly the picture shall stay where it is

The pistols resumed the gambler and he glanced at the one lying on the moss I give 'em to you You'll find them true You will accept them?

The trapper bowed his head It is doubtful if he could speak For several minutes there was silence The end was evidently nigh The trapper took the gambler's hand as if it had been the hand of his own boy Indeed perhaps the young man had found his father at last for surely it isn't flesh that makes fatherhood Once the young man moved as if he would rise Had he been able he would have died with his arms round the old man's neck As it was the strength was unequal to the impulse He lifted his eyes to the old man's face lovingly moved his body as if he would get a little nearer and as a child might speak a loving thought aloud said I am glad I met you, John Norton" and with the saying of the sweet words he died

Chronic and Difficult Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN 1878

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh, Bronchitis and Diseases of the Throat and Chest Lungs and urinary new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea Seminal Weakness or premature Loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States Diseases the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part for his great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make Be sure and ask for DR PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door
